The whole, taken together, make a very Constitution would not have been ratified by dollars every tick of a clock. the States. Oar fathers were apprehensive that this Federal Government might be tempted to do just what this Administration has done. If the States hereafter should determine to revise the Constitution and put an everlasting veto upon the common practices of the day, they could write down nothing stronger than these provisions.

We presume no one will pretend that these provisions of the Constitution have been observed at all. They are all intended to be restrictions on Federal power, and every member of the Administration has taken an oath to protect and defend these provisions. They seem to have adopted the plan of laying these provisions by for the present, that they may be out of harm's way. As they are now amending the Constitution

r proposing to do it, we suggest a proviso as the 13th amendment, so as to justify by a plain enactment what is done in practice. Let it read thus: Resolved. That "what would otherwise b unconstitutional, may become lawful, by becoming indispensable to save the Constitution through the preservation of the nation."

The President avows this doctrine and act show their sincerity by inserting the doctrine in the organic law. The way the Constitution reads to plain people, the acts and practices of the present party in power look inexplicable. They daily do what is positively forbidden. How they understand the Constitution perplexes good loyal people. Just put this proviso in the Constitution and it will all be dispensable in the judgment of the President or anybody in power may become lawful. If the Abolitionists are too modest to propose such a necessary amendment, we hope some Democrat will suggest it, and see if the brethren will stand up to the President, or if the States that sustain him will ratify this plain. Then it will be seen how what is in-

If God now wills the removal of a great wrong, and wills also that we of the North, as well as you of the South, shall pay fairly for our complicity in that wrong, impartial history will find therein new cause to attest and revere the justice and goodness of God.

[A. Lincoln.

The President is not certain what God wil's and concerts. or may will. He does not know that He will require us to pay fairly for our complicity in wrong. Perhaps He may not remove the evil or make us pay for it. But if He does, then impartial history will give Him credit for it. If he does not, what will impartial history

Hume tells a story of a prayer by a parson of the covenant school, on the eve of a battle with Cromwell. He told the Lord, plainly, that if He did not give them the victory, they they would not fight under Gen. Banks. would not have Him to be their God!

What, then, we repeat, will this impartia history do if Divine Providence does not do as Mr. Lincoln & Co. expect? Impartial history, then, will not find new cause to revere the justice and goodness of God. In that event, ing smaller and beautifully less, the price is how will impartial history get along? Then is not war one of the greatest of wrongs? The soldier is a slave to the Government and its our experience goes.—[Bangor Times.] officers while engaged in war, and there can be no war without soldiers. Prophets and apostles seem to differ with Abraham Lincoln. They found slavery all over the world, and didn't say that if it was not wrong, nothing was wrong.

Suppose a man swears to support a Constitution, and then does what it positively forbids, under the plea that it is indispensable to accomplish something else he is not sworn to vance,

Lincoln here betrays the spirit of the Phari see, in common with his party. They know what is wrong, and they are not as other men are. If God will do as He ought to, impartial history will find new cause to revere His justice and goodness. If He will not do as they desire, it is not their fault, and all the worse for Him.

It strikes us as in the highest degree presumptuous in fallible man to pronounce a system under which men live as the chief of wrongs, because it bears unequally on different races of men. Who can say he can make something better, and pronounce that the justice and goodness of God would make a will enable all persons to keep the run of their acchange?

> Congress is just as good a place for person to expose his ignorance as any you could well choose, and it is to be said of our Congressmen, they rapidly avail themselves of the opportunity thus afforded. The last effort in this way was made by Senator Sumper, a gentleman who prides himself on the variety and extent of his information. He ascribed the decline in value of the French assignate to the fact that no provision was made for their redemption. On the contrary, no money could be better secured, since it was based on the crown and church lands; and any holder of these assignats could go into the market and purchase gove nment real estate with them. The cause of the depreciation was the want of confidence in the stability of the revolutionary government, and not, as Mr. Sumner believed from any other insecurity in their value.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

The Expulsion of Harris and Long-Dodging of Kentucky Members-Garfield and the Spy-Vindication of Judges Davis and Echolls, of Indiana-Gen. Crittenden-Col. Pennebaker, Military Agent of Kentucky.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.] WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25, 1864. Messrs. Editors: There has scarcely an event appened in the history of the nation that has created a more profound sensation and excitement throughout the whole country than the circumstance of the attempt at expulsion and censure of Messrs. Long, of Ohio, and Harris, of Maryland.

Your readers are already fully aware of the circumstances, and I will not repeat them, but will give you the impression that seems to prevail around Washington and among the members of Congress with reference to the matter. Speaker Colfax has evidently dammatter. Speaker Colfax has evidently damaged himself materially. He could have preserved his dignity and muntained his loyalty and integrity just as well by remaining in his seat as presiding officer of the House, and presided over the proceedings while some other zealously loyal man could have introduced the resolution of expulsion, with the same desired effect. But Speaker Colfax seemed to think that it would look better coming from him, being the presiding officer. coming from him, being the presiding officer of the House of Representatives of the Ameri an Congress.
It is somewhat grafifying to observe that

The somewast graffying to observe that the great weight of public opinion, and a great majority of the newspapers throughout the country, do not sustain the attempt of the Speaker and of his party to suppress the liberty of speech in Congress. A great majority of them condemn the course pursued towards Mr. Long and Mr. Harris. Like many men in Congress they do not agree with thom in Congress, they do not agree with them in their opinions, but contend that they have the constitutional right to express their opinions n Congress as the representative of a constit nency that is as loyal as any constituency in the State which they represent. The Demo-eratic party in Congress, as well as throughcratic party in Congress, as well as throughout the whole country, may well begin to look upon these gradual encroachments upon the people of the party in power. It has already struck down the liberty of the press, or attempted to do so. Vide Gen. Burnside's order suppressing the Chicago Times, New York World, &c., and Gen. Rosecrans' order against that independent Catholic journal in New York City. It has struck at the right of free elections, as the records of Congress will show in the Missouri, Maryland, and Kentucky contested elections. It now strikes at the freedom of speech, and it only needed a few more radicals to have carried their point, to the utter disgrace and downfall of all republican freedom in this nation of ours.

Speaker Colfax has evidently missed his mark, which was manifested by his offer to withdraw the resolution of expulsion before it westerd a reason for the strucky of the resolution of expulsion before it westerd a reason of the strucky of

[Evening Post. CAMP JOKES .- Our army correspondent says: The arrival this spring of a vast num-ber of recruits has afforded excellent oppor-tunity to the "old soldiers" to satisfy their love for jokes and sells. All manner of tricks are resorted to to make the conscripts, as they style the last levy, sharp. Two or three are so good that I recite them.

Everybody has heard of General Morgan, from Illinois, who commands a brigade in Davis' Division. The General is one of those men who would be very apt to be mistaken for a wavenuster, so plain and unexamping is a wagermaster, so plain and unassuming he in his manner and dress. A new recru of his brigade lost some books and made in quiry of a Veteran where he would be likely to find them. Veteran informed him that the only thief in the brigade was Jim Morgan, who occupied a tent near the blue flag. Away ran recruit to Morgan's tent, shoved his head in and asked,

"Does Jim Morgan live here?"
"Yes" was the reply, "my name is James

"Then I want you to hand over those books "Then I want you to hand over those books you stole from me!"

"I have none of your books, my man."

"Its a —— lie," indignantly exclaimed the recruit. "The boys say you are the only thief in camp; turn out them books or I'll grind your infernal carcase into apple sass."

The General relished the joke much, but, coing the shawy recruit recting the shawy re seeing the sinewy recruit peeling off his coat informed him of his relations to the brigade and the recruit walked off, merely remarking "wall, d-n me if I'd taken you for a Briga dier. Special dispatches to the Times from Washington say that facts showing the determined energy with which the rebels are concentrating troops in Virginia continue to multiply. The President to-day received a dispatch from Gen. Butler stating it as his belief that the rebel forces are withdrawing from North Caroline, and hastening to re-enforce Lee.

As far as heard from up to eleven o'clock to-night, nothing of much importance had transpired at the front, though indications are that a collision cannot long be delayed.

ARREST OF A NOTORIOUS RASCAL -Yesterday evening Alex. Hatfield (f. m. c.) made an upprovoked and murderous assault upon a hackman named Urban Bailey, a white man, at the corner of Second and Main streets, with an ax. Irvine Bell, a citizen, who was near and witnessed the assault, started toward the negro, who ran. Mr. Bell pursued him to Jef ferson street, between Second and Third streets, where he arrested the negro and took him to jail. The negro made several attempts to strike Mr. Bailey, but that gentleman suc ceeded in dodging the murderous blows. This negro Hatfield is a notorious rascal, and only got out of the penitentiary a few months since. having been sent there during the year 1859, for stealing a horse and buggy. Hatfield will be before the Police Court this morning, and if he receives his just dues he will be sent back to the institution from which he was lately discharged.

A difficulty occurred at the military prison yesterday between one of the guard and a "contraband" there. The acgro for some imagined offense commenced abusing the soldier, applying to him the most offensive epithets, when the latter knocked the him severely. The negro was so badly injured that his life is despaired of. From what we could learn from eye witnesses, the guard was entiretly justifiable in what he did.

There are now confined in the city jail nine persons who are charged with the crime of murder. Two of the party have been tried by court martial; one, a negro, is to be hung near Shepherdsville next month; two are here (having been sent from other places) in the city for safe keeping, and the remaining four are to be tried in the Jefferson Circuit Court, which convenes here on next Monday. Their names are: Pat. Pendergrass, Robert Smith, Mary Gibbons and John Welch.

BARRACES ITEMS .- The business transacted at the barracks yesterday was larger than any previous day for some time. Thirty-nine recruits from Iowa, and 110 convalescents from different points, en route for the front; 10 deserters from Cincinnati, 6 from Lebanon, and 1 from Indianapolis, constitute the arrivals. Three hundred and ten convalescents and recruits were transferred to their regiments, and 10 deserters were sent to different points heavily ironed.

COURT MARTIAL.—The only case before the court yesterday was that of private John J. Ayers, of company E, Thirteenth Kentucky cavalry, charged with the murder of John Kane, of the same company and regiment, near Columbia, Ky., on the 7th of December, 1863. The evidence was closed, and the court adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock this morning, when the argument will be heard. The court after floishing this case will adjourn sine die.

The Nashville train arrived on time lastevening. Two rebel commissioned officers, K, Fifty-third Indiana. who were captured at the front, were brought up and placed in the military prison.

The announcement of this news spread through the little town like wildfire, and produced a perfect furor of excitement. Numbers of the citizens left the town, carrying off with them their money, horses, and other valuables. The person who brought the information into Brandenburg was unable to state under whose command the rebels were, and the account is probably somewhat exaggerated, but yet it would be well for the military to be prepared for any such movement. XXXVIIIth Congress .- First Session . WASHINGTON, April 29. SENATE.

Mr. Grimes presented the memorial of A. Lanson Penfield, clerk in the Treasury Department, praying for the construction of reservoirs for supplying the Upper Mississippi with a medium steep of water for payingstion reservoirs, praying for the construction of reservoirs for supplying the Upper Mississippi with a medium stage of water for navigation throughout the dry summer months, and a canal from the head of Lake Superior to the Red River of the North, via Sandy Lake, a distance of forty miles, thence via Crow Wing and Attantol Lake to Breckenridge—total distance of two hundred and forty miles—thus opening navigation by Red river and Saulstachaua for two thousand miles, to the base of the Rocky Mountains, and furnishing an outlet to the Hudson Bay region. This would require an improvement of forty—three miles less than the Fort Wisconsin river canal route, and eighty miles shorter than the Illinois and Mississippi canal.

Mr. Ramsey introduced a bill for the benefit and better management of the Indians, by when the President can locate them again and sell their lands.

Mr. Harlan introduced a resolution of the Iowa Legislature, asking for increased mail facilities in that State. Referred.

Henderson offered a joint resolution to provide for the private facilities.

vide for the printing of the report of the committee of which Major-General McDowell was President, to examine into cotton specuations on the part of officers in the West.

A modification of Mr. Grimes, requesting the Secretary of War to transmit his report, On motion of Mr. Lane, words, if not ined now.

Mr. Henderson said that information on the subject was desired now, as it would bear on the bills pending before this body, and this was the only authentic way to obtain it.

Supreme Court and nothing remains for her Was the only authentic way to obtain it.

He had read letters in the last three days from the Red river, saying that our defeat there was on account of speculation. The except the sentence and execution on the scaffold. eavalry in advance on that occasion number ng 3,000 men, had 265 wagors which become confused and brought on disaster.

Mr. Wilson wanted to know if the Senator

Mr. Henderson said no such thing, he merely wished to know what this brigade of cavalry wanted with 265 wagons, unless it was to her up the products of Mr. Conness stated, on what he considered the highest authority, that these wagons are part of a regular train of army, and whatever might have been defeat of the army the statement that they were intended to bring in cot ton was not correct.

Mr. Henderson made no charges himself, but it was singular disasters had followed the statements and predictions of the newspaper writers. He read a letter from Grand Ecore, dated four days before the battle, alleging a conflict of authority between Banks and Por ter, and stating that the latter was seiz ton on land as naval prizes, and predicting Mr. Conness denounced the statement as a cruel and base slander upon Admiral Porter, for which he had the highest authority for The resolution as amended was adopted.

Mr. Nesmith called was adopted.

Nesmith called up the Senate bill to stablish branch mints.
An amendment striking out Carson City was adopted and the bill passed.

The national currency bill came up in order. The question being on the Finance Com mittee's amendment to the 41st section, as proposed to be amended by Mr. Pomeroy by he insertion of a provision excepting from State tax that portion of capital invested in or based on United States bonds, the amendment was rejected—28 to 14. HOUSE.

Mr. Higby, of California, on the select ommittee on charges against Mr. Blair, noved that the evidence be printed. Mr. McClurg reminded the House that when the report was made he waived his remarks in order that the tax bill might be acted upon. He regretted that military member Blair was not now present. This military member had the audacity to attack radical members from Miseouri in a clandestine manner, and made personal abuse of them; that he, Blair, never attered in his printed speech. The speaker rinded the gentleman from Mo., Mr. McClurg, that his remaks were in order.

Gg motion of Mr. Stevens, Mr. McClurg had permission to proceed. He denied that he had m de a direct charge against Military Blair, of liquour speculation. The latter could not control his vindictive character, and said that Powers was a treasury agent, which was not the foet nor was Powers at treasure. that his remaks were in order. was not the fact, nor was Powers a treasury agent until some weeks after the liquor trans-action. Mr. McClurg was a great admirer of Secretary Chase; whom he compared to an iron clad, and the individual, Blair, to a Major-General firing paper wads from a popgun, and the sentinel not aroused from his Mr. Clay of Kentucky, from a select com-nittee, reminds the gentleman (Mr. McClurg) that there was nothing in evidence to show that Mr. Blair was engaged in iquor speculation, the military Members and the eight officers of his staff who signed the original order was cognizant of the fact that it had been altered. They were not only morally but legally bound by set of the former powers who was the grent. He was satisfied that the publications of the staff of the transfer of the transfer of the staff of th was the agent. He was satisfied that the pubic would come to some conclusion.

Mr. Higby maintained that the charge of oriminalty against the treasury officials was not sustained by the facts.

Mr. Clay, a member of the 'select committee, said Gen. B'air was completely exonerated him from the charge against him, but he did not agree with the gentleman (Mr. Higby) as to the treasury officers. He concluded by saying that Powers was a forcer and the

Mr. Dawes, of Mass., offered resolution alling on the President to communicate to be House cortes of all letters and documents which are referred to in his message of yes-terday, which have any connection with the answer to the resolution asking whether Gen. Blair holds any appointment or commission in the military service.

13 A motion to lay the resolution on the table was negatived—39 to 84.

Mr. Brooks, of New York, offered an amendment, which was received, that the President communicate to the House depositions in his possession, or in possession of the Treasury Department, respecting the fitting up bureau in the Treasury Department building for printing money, bonds or other obligations for use. Mr. Schenck emphatically objected to its eing acted on, it had nothing to do with the ending resolution.

Mr. Brooks commenced to speak and explain his object in offering the amendment; he was called to order. The Speaker decided Mr. Brooks not in order.

Mr. Brooks offered another resolution, preceded by a preamble, calling for the appointment of a committee to examine and report on the condition of the Tressury department, especially the bureau wherein are the printed bonds and other obligations of the United States the power to employ expert agents, and that the committee suggest such changes for facilitating business and for the protection of the public interest as may be necessary.

Objections were made.

Objections were made.

Mr. Brooks said he would abandon the floo if he was permitted to publish his speech in to-morrow's Globe, and asked permission of the House. Several gentlemen on the Republican side objected. Some confusion enaued,

Mr. Brocks said that millions of public; money had been sacrificed on bureaus of printing, and much evil had been produced by the conversion of the treasury building in a house of orgies and bachannals. If the galleries were cleared so that language could be used not fit for female ears, he [Brooks], could show that every word said was more than true.

The Speaker called Mr. Brooks to take his Messrs. Schenck, Johnson, and others on both sides talking at the same time, while the Speaker was hammering with his gavel to en-force order.

Mr. Schenck, on one side of the hall, and

Mr. Schenck, on one side of the hall, and Mr. Rrooks, on the other, indulged in a hurried and brief colloquy, but owing to the confusion its purport was not heard in the repporters' gallery, further than what Mr. Brooks said to Mr. Schenck: This is not Baltimore, but the capital of the United States.

Mr. Schenck's reply was not heard.

The Speaker directed Messrs. Schenck and Brooks to take their seats.

The Speaker directed Messrs. Schenck and Brooks to take their seats.
On motion of Mr. Miller, of Pennsylvania, Mr. Brooks was allowed to proceed in order.
Mr. Brooks apologized to the chair, and continued his remarks, but ere long was again called to order. He then said he would contend no further, and took his seat. [Special to the Post.]

Pegram's new boat, the Ida Handy, now ouilding at the city wharf, is rapidly approaching Bonnets, ompletion, and when finished she will be one of the most complete steamers on the Western waters. She is being built under the personal supervision of Capt. D. C. Sheble, who is to be her commander. In the building of this steame her owners have spared neither labor or expense o make her one of the most complete boats every built here, and we can assure our St Louis contemporaries that she will be the queen of the fleet. She has forty-six large state rooms, all well lighted, which will be furnished and finished in the most complete style, each containing a washstand and wardrobe. The Ida Handy will be ready to enter the service about the 10th of May. O. L. Smith, formerly of the Diana, will have charge of

TESTIMONIALS.

TESTIMONIALS. NE OF THE MANY CASES OF DEAFNESS CURE BY DR. JONES SINCE HE CAME TO LOUISVILLE.

BY DR. JONES SINCE HE CAME TO LOUISVILLE.

I have been deaf in one car for seven years, and was getting so in the other. I was troubled with very unplassant noise in my head. Hearing of Dr. Jones great skill, at the Louisville Hotel. I consulted him. It a few minutes he examined my ears, and told me he could cure me; after I learned his fee, I told him I wanted him to do what he could for me. I have been under his treatment two weeks, and consider myself cured, and can safely recommend the afflicted to Dr. Jones, PETER DANAS, No. 222 Floyd street, Louisville, Ky., Apr.! 224, 1864. FALLING OF THE EYELIDS CURED.

My daughter has been troubled with deformed eyelids so much so that she could not raise them up; Dr. Jones by a skillful operation, has removed the deformity, and enabled her to raise har eyelids like other folks.

Hammondsville, Ky., April 18th, 1864. A BAD CASE OF RUNNING OF THE EAR. D NESS AND NOISE IN THE HEAD CURED. NESS AND NOISE IN THE HEAD CURED.

During the Spring of 1883, while Dr. Jones was practicing at Indianapolis with great success. I placed my son, Is years old, ander his treatment for an offensive discharge of the ears, caused by scarlet fever and measles, when he was a child. The boy had been pionounced incorable by many; others stated he would grow out of it; but time showed that it was destroying his hearing, and, indeed, could searcely hear at all, particularly when he took cold. After Dr. Jones had examined my son, he hold me he could cure the discharce and improve the hearing, and he might make it good in four months' treatmen'. In a tew weeks after the boy commenced the medicine a great improvement was discerned, and after using it four months his hearing was quite perfect. It is now a year since Dr. Jones took him under treatment practically deaf, with a most disagreeable discharge. My sor, by Dr. Jones' skill, has reen cured, and saved from being deaf all his life; but if I had listened to my family physician and others much longer, my dear son would have been forever deaf.

Dr. Jones, use this testimony as you please.

I am ever your grateful friend.

Pittsbung, March 9, 1863.

Having been troubled with deafness for some time bast, more particularly after taking cold, and latterly becoming much worse, I made up my mind, in cempany with a friend, to visit Dr. Jon 8, at the Monongahe's House. On the 2d day of March I did so; and after being seated I stated my case, giving full particulars. The Doctor's reply was: "I can restore your hearing as well as it ever was... "How long will it take, Doctor?" "Half an hour." "Will the operation be painful?" "No si;; any operation in the ear that would ne painful would be injurious." The sum was stated. "You can go to work." The Doctor began and went through like some master workman. Instead of pain, certain parts of the operation in which so much was at stake for me. In less than half an hour my hearing was perfectly restored, and has remained so ever since. I paid the Doctor his price, and am perfectly well satisfied with my bargain. The Doctor and I are even, except that I think I had the best of the bargain. What I have written I have done voluntarily; and did I not believe the cure to be perfect, I would say so without regard to any person.

WILLIAM EVANS,

Dr. Jones is now going homeward from a professional tour to the principal western cities. His success in the cities of St. Louis, Cincinnati, Columbus, Pittsburg and Indianapolis, in restori, g the afflicted, is without a predent in Ophthalmic and Aural Surg ry. In the city of Pittsburg, during a Fractice of four months, Dr. Jones straightened 29; crooked eyes of both sexes and all ages, cured or relieved 370 persons of deafness, cperated 79 times successfully for cataract, treated with success 29 patients for amaurosis (nervous blindness), cured or relieved 20 cases of ozona ('eatid ulcer in the nose, in serted 19 artificial eyes, cured or relieved 139 patients afflicted with catarrhal affections, cured 6 persons of stammering, operated with complete success 5 times for artificial punil (the most deticate and difficuit operation in ophthalmic surgery,) cured and prescribed for artificial punil (the most deticate and difficuit operation in ophthalmic surgery,) cured and prescribed for the ear), operated for polypi in the nose and ear 35 times, (a species of tumor), cured and relieved 220 persons of ophthalmia (inflamed eyes or eyelids, or both), cured a grant number of all kinds of other diseases, and removed a number of specks from the eyes, operated 19 times for pterysium, (a triangular skin or thickening of the mucas membrane which grows over the eye). Dr. Jones at the Bates House.—Public attention see is being directed very considerably towards this tioguished gentleman, and people are beginning to that he is neither a humbur nor even one of the orders that he is neither a humbur nor even one of the orders transling. "Doctors," but really a scientific man bissing to the afflicted, and all, indeed, that he p fesses to be. We have spoken heretofore very hig and unqualifiedly of Dr. Jones, but we knew the mand his eminent success in other places, and knew that we were talking about. We commend the Doct to the public, not for his benefit, but for the benefit he afflicted—all who have defective organs of sight hearing. As an operating surgeon we verify believe has no equal in America. He has spent a large fortuna acquiring the knowledge he possesses, in the beschools of Europe, as well as in this country, and it.
